The Community Alliance for Special Education

CASE, was formed in 1979 to protect the lawful educational rights of children with disabilities by fostering the fair and just implementation of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and state special education law. CASE advocacy staff helps families and school districts work together to develop appropriate special education programs for students with disabilities, who are at risk for school failure, so they can succeed in school, get a job and become productive members of their community.

CASE offers three basic services:

- Technical assistance consultations to families and professionals on state and federally mandated special education rights and services.
- Direct representation by attorney and non-attorney advocates at Individual Education Program (IEP) meetings and Due Process Proceedings.
- Trainings and workshops for students, families, educators and community professionals on special education rights and services.
